County keeps Deputy Reeves

Council criticized by lone proponent

by Russ Duhaime

Haliburton County Council has officially put the matter to rest: Deputy Reeves will maintain their seats after the November municipal elections.

In a lopsided vote, council rejected a motion to cut the seven Deputy Reeves from the their county posts, ending years of unofficial debate on the matter.

Sherborne Township Reeve Ross Rabjohn brought the issue to the floor by means of a notice of motion at the March meeting of County Council. He was also the first to speak out against the motion when debate opened Wednesday.

The question was first raised more than two years ago, he said, but it was never formally resolved. Instead, it has continually come up in conversations he's had with residents and fellow councillors.

"This has gone on long enough," said Rabjohn. By making the notice of motion, he forced council to take a serious look at the proposal and either approve or reject it. "Maybe we should have done this two years ago and be done with it."

At the previous council meeting, clerk Terry Noble was instructed to do an investigation to find out the pros and cons of eliminating the Deputy Reeves. What Noble found out is that it would create a significant shift in the voting pattern. The Municipal Act sets out the rules for such a move. If they are applied here, the larger municipalities would lose some of their voting clout, while the others would gain.

"I didn't know how it would change the voting pattern," said Rabjohn. Considering the information before him, Rabjohn said he cannot support the cut.

Snowdon Reeve George Simmons was the only councillor to vote in favour of the reduction. He chastised his fellow councillors for acting irresponsibly for the past three years. He asked what this council has accomplished during its term in office and said he questions the function of county council.

Simmons said every municipality is trying to control the county. Further, he said it was a mistake when council shut down its management committee.

The management committee, which was comprised of the 10 reeves, was eliminated at the request of then Warden Chris Hodgson. The move was designed to end years of criticism and speculation about deal-making at these closed meetings.

Since the dissolution of the management committee Simmons said, there have been problems in reaching any consensus at council. With 17 councillors come 17 opinions and, he said, Reeves and Deputy Reeves from the same townships are often voting against each other.

In contrast, Stanhope Deputy Reeve Eleanor Harrison said it can be an advantage to have 17 opinions. She said the seven Deputy Reeves have worked hard for the county. She also noted that the present Warden, Jim McMahon is a Deputy Reeve.

Sherborne's Deputy Reeve agreed. "I wish some would not take such a hard view of us," said Hans Liebmann, motioning towards Simmons. "We have made some good decisions." He said he felt honoured when the management committee was dissolved and, for the first time, he was allowed to contribute to the budget process. Liebmann said it is better to share the workload among 17 people rather than 10.

In a related debate, council considered the idea of changing its committee structure. The proposal was to have full participation by all 17 councillors in a day-long session prior to the regular council meeting.

This motion was unanimously rejected, largely because of the hardship this would impose on councillors who hold down jobs. This committee structure would mean councillors would have to give up two days of work each month rather than one. In addition to the county commitments, councillors must also attend various meetings and functions on behalf of their townships. Many argued that this would discourage people from running for municipal office.

OSAID hopes to raise awareness of the realities of impaired driving.

Royal troubled by 'stall tactics' used by opponents to gravel pit

by Jerry Grozelle

Opponents to the development of the Royal Paving gravel pit in Stanhope Township have won a temporary victory.

An Ontario Municipal Board hearing at the Stanhope Municipal Office has been held over to October. The delay was forced because lawyers arguing against the expansion had made other commitments and were unable to continue into the third day as had been previously scheduled.

Clayt Ellis, Vice-President of Royal Paving accused opposition lawyers Theresa McLennan and John Kieffer of using stall tactics to impede the progress of the hearing.

"We're really disappointed that the hearing did get delayed," Ellis said. "We don't think we got a fair chance at the hearing. Three days were set aside for the hearing last November and their people should have been prepared for three days. It took two days for their witnesses and our witnesses never got on the stand. So, the two days were used up by their people. I feel it's just a stall. They've delayed it for another year and I think it was done on purpose."

The property concerned is part of a 96-acre parcel of land located about one and a half

Signalling support County endorses TVO bid

The bid to bring the TVOntario signal into Haliburton County is getting strong support from local municipalities.

All municipal councils (with the exception of Sherbourne et al which has yet to discuss the matter) and County Council have passed resolutions petitioning the Minister of Culture, Tourism and Recreation to do whatever it takes to get off-air access to the signal into the county.

A committee has been struck to begin pressing for access to the signal. To date, there are 700 signature on a petition and it is expected this will grow significantly once the cottagers arrive for the summer.

Susan Wilson, who represents the county on TVOntario's South-central Regional Council, attended last Wednesday's county council meeting to drum up more support.

TVOntario is a publicly funded network that provides unique programming to most parts of Ontario.

Haliburton County, however, is situated in a pocket that is not well served by the existing transmitters. Only people with access to cable or satellite dishes on the KU band, and a fortunate few who live in "the right place" get to watch these programs.

TVO's high Canadian content is an important cultural feature, Wilson said.

Seventy-five percent of the programming offered by this station is Canadian, which puts to shame the commercial stations that reach the county. She said she was recently watching the commercial stations and was dismayed at the lack of Canadian programs. "I could have been in the middle of Kansas!" she said.

TVOntario's programming is valuable for cultural and academic reasons, she said. Further, she noted that it is an "urban habit" that many seasonal residents wish they could bring with them to the cottage.

While council agreed to lend its support, Minden Reeve Bern Berry cautioned that the location of a transmitter tower could pose problems in the future. He noted that there has been strong opposition to other towers erected in the county.

Wilson said she is aware of the potential opposition but feels confident this can be avoided. She said it is critical that everyone has advance notice of the location of a transmitter to avoid problems. She also said it might be possible to have the transmitter situated on an existing tower.

Search continues

Minden OPP is continuing its search for a man in the Harcourt/Wilberforce area. The suspect eluded police on a number of occasions after intensive searches were mounted following sightings by local residents.

The fact that a fugitive is being sought in the area has shaken area residents. One woman said the fact the man has been seen in the vicinity has made residents very wary. "It has turned the whole community upside down with fear and worry," she commented.

The police are looking for Kurt Jennrich, age 27. He is described as white, 6 ft. tall, 190 pounds, reddish brown hair and blue eyes. He is clean shaven and could be armed. The man is wanted for numerous break and enter offenses, parole violations and is at large on a Canada-wide warrant.

Anyone sighting this individual is asked to call the OPP at 1-800-461-6488.

Townships want share of unused county grant

If Haliburton County can't use its $1.3-million infrastructure grants, some local municipalities would like to tap the fund.

The federal and provincial governments are providing 66 per cent funding to municipalities to enhance local infrastructures. Unfortunately, Haliburton County's empty reserves mean it is probably unable to access the grants.

With this in mind, Minden Reeve Bern Berry has asked that municipalities be allowed to take advantage of the county's allotment.

Berry said Minden has built up its reserves over the years and is in a position where it is able to capitalize on the grants. The deadline for applications is September and Berry said he'd hate to miss out on this opportunity.

Minden is already planning to take full advantage of the $656,000 in grants available to the township.

County Warden Jim McMahon said county council should soon decide whether it will apply for any part of the infrastructure allotment. He said this decision should be final by next month's meeting.

HCDC links up with Community Futures

The Haliburton County Development Corporation and Community Futures will soon be united under one management committee.

The two federally-financed bodies which already share an office in Haliburton village are to be amalgamated as a means of saving money, county council was told last Wednesday.

Andy Campbell (HCDC) and Bryan

Brown (Futures) attended Wednesday's county council meeting to deliver the news. They said the two will be amalgamated by November 1. This will mean a sharing of services, staff and a single management board. The amalgamation is expected to generate a saving of 11 per cent in the combined budgets.

The development corporation has existed here for eight years, providing loans of up to $75,000 to businesses as a means of bolstering employment. Campbell emphasized that the corporation is not in competition with banks and that loans hinge on job creation.

The Community Futures program has been up and running for about a year. It works closely with the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce on a number of projects that were identified as priorities at community workshops.

"It wasn't until I experienced a loss in my own family that I finally realized the importance of a funeral service."

A candid talk about funeral service with Kirsten L. Monk.

Kirsten L. Monk, Funeral Director

"Although I grew up in the funeral service profession, I'll admit I wasn't involved much with the family business. I guess like many young people, I had other views on what was important.

"That all changed when a member of our extended family experienced a traumatic death. It was a very emotional time, but I think it finally made me realize why funeral service is so important.

"Not only is a funeral a chance to honor a life well lived, but it seems to pull families together like no other way I have seen. It gives each family member a special time to reflect, cry, laugh, and gain strength from one another.

"Occasionally we have families who think a traditional funeral may be too hard or unnecessary. But it's actually one of the healthiest ways of coming to grips with the loss of a loved one. Without it, the reality of death may not sink in until months or years later.

"We feel it's important for families to understand the value of a funeral. We know this because we've experienced losses too."

Local quintet featured at Brasserama

A local ensemble will be one of the featured groups during an evening of brass music May 31.

The Northland Brass Quintet has been invited to perform at the aptly named Brasserama concert scheduled for the Archie Stouffer Elementary School gymnasium.

Performing at Brasserama will be a number of ensembles including the well-known Brass Quintessence, a group which has been heard in the Highlands on many occasions. The musical evening will also bring together a number of groups, which, through the years, have shared a common bond.

The Northland Brass, which includes Ben Ripley, Ian and Keith Mackenzie, Damon Smith and Rhys Gray, sprang out of a series of summer brass workshops. These sessions were co-ordinated, a number of years ago, by Archie Stouffer Elementary School music teacher Glen Carter and former Toronto music teacher Walter Barnes. Among the students in the class were members of Brass Quintessence.

These students had already gained recognition for their musical artistry in provincial and national competitions and were involved in concerts in Japan and Finland. In addition to being students at the summer class, members of Brass Quintessence assisted by coaching the local musicians and performing at a number of local events.

Members of Brass Quintessence, James Chiarelli, James Freeman, Austin Hitchcock, Steve Dyer and Christopher Lee, have since advanced to study music at the Faculty of Music in McGill University in Montreal. The group often practises with the highly respected Canadian Brass and has been involved with the group in the making of an educational video.

Another group taking part in the Brasserama evening will be the Highland Brass Quintet, five musicians, Glen Carter and Walter Barnes, plus John Stouffer, Craig Saunders and Don Wright, who is substituting for Lori Valentine-Reddering, a regular member of the group. A group of grade eight student, under the direction of music teacher Glen Carter assisted by Walter Barnes, will also perform.

"It will be an exciting evening of brass chamber music," Barnes commented as preparations continue for the evening. "A real treat for the community."

Brasserama will be held May 31 at the Archie Stouffer Elementary School gymnasium, starting at 7:30 p.m. Admission is just $2 per person to a maximum of $5 per family.

Setting direction

It has been a difficult three years for Haliburton County Council, but it's a mistake to think that its troubles can be eradicated with simple solutions.

The option of eliminating Deputy Reeves from council was worth investigating, but it would not have solved the problems that have plagued this council for the past term. Nor would a change in the committee structure create any significant benefits.

The problem at the county table is two-fold. There's a shortage of funding to take on all the necessary projects and there are contrasting opinions on how and where the limited funds should be spent.

Some councillors have vision of a county government with expanded responsibilities while others believe most issues are best handled by the municipal councils. As a result, many valuable initiatives have fallen by the wayside because of a lack of consensus and direction.

Economic development, land use planning and waste management are examples of how this county has failed to follow through on its goals. Three departments were created several years ago with the intent of expanding the county function and providing common services to the 10 municipalities. For a variety of reasons, the municipalities failed to take advantage of the county's services, and ultimately these ineffective departments were dissolved at budget time.

This situation would not have been averted with a downsized council or altered committee structure. Cutting the number of councillors from 17 to 10 may have lessened the division on council, but it would not have eliminated it.

In order to build consensus, council must first establish a direction. Should the county responsibilities be expanded or should it provide only the essentials? What services are best provided at the county level as opposed to the municipal level? Is amalgamation of municipalities an option the county should be striving towards?

These are questions the next county council should address at the outset of its term. If council reaches a consensus on the role of the county, there will be far less division as other issues come to the table.

Pitting sexes against each other is folly

Editor:

I have watched with increasing sadness the growing confrontation over the "women's emergency house" as well as the anger demonstrated by both sides of the debate.

As a Christian and a lawyer with a passion for the upholding of people's rights as long as the exercise of same does not harm others, I can no longer remain silent.

The debates over many issues in our society from gay rights, native rights, women's rights, etc., etc., are entrenching people to such an extent that the prevention of violence may be impossible. The anger growing in all segments of Canadian society may well drown out the voice of reason unless we each take personal responsibility to stop it.

I am fully convinced that people who make abrasive statements intended by design or ignorance to portray men and women in some sort of eternal battle are as big a danger to our society as those they oppose (in this case, violent men).

"But it shows how little value is put on the importance of stopping violence against women. Men must support women in their struggle." - Sunera Thobani, as quoted at a recent meeting in Haliburton.

To this individual as well as her followers I must say that you are wrong in supposing that all who oppose you are in support of violence against women and children. Stop thinking yourselves and your methods of such infallible importance that all opposition must of necessity be wrong. I for one strongly oppose much of the methodology of the organization Ms. Thobani represents but am fully committed to opposing all forms of abuse in our society.

Many of us come from a tradition which says violence and abuse by anyone against anyone is wrong; both morally and legally; I am one of these people and I am a man and take strong offense to the continuing direct statements that only men abuse women and children. This statement belies the truth that many men are abused by women, women by women, and in fact, in a recent statistic, up to 53 percent of physical abuse on children is effected by women. People abuse people and this is unacceptable.

I would suggest that those who would seek to pit the sexes against each other get into the 20th century. Stop fighting wars and resurrecting hates which for the most part are dead.

We have the ability to genuinely act as an effective unit (men and women of varying philosophies, methods, and backgrounds) in the opposition to violence and abuse of all forms by any human being or group of human beings against others.

I firmly believe that the real enemies in our society are the closed-minded males who brag of violence being a suitable method of dealing with others and the women who continuously hammer home the unsubstantiated belief that these few men represent the majority of males in our society.

If there is anything we have learned in these last 94 years of world wars and global violence, it is that no reasoning human being would support violence or abuse as a method of problem solving. The time for people to stop controlling each other has come. I find so much of the methods and verbiage of the present day prophets no more than refined restatements of past philosophies with control and dominance as their standard. "When we come together we gain strength and power and nothing can stop us from changing our lives." - Sunera Thobani.

In closing, I must state for my part that I will ardently oppose the true enemy of human dignity i.e. ignorance and division.

"There is a principle which is a bar against all information; which is proof against all arguments and which cannot fail to keep a person in everlasting ignorance - that principle is contempt, prior to investigation." - Herbert Spencer.

There are many who will join ranks to make this a better society. Don't turn them away because they don't use your methods.

The tricky business of giving gifts

It was with mixed emotions that I received the news that Aunt Myrtle had passed away. Mixed, because Aunt Myrtle was a sweet, harmless old crone who had never, in 83 years, done an intentional nasty to another earthling.

On the other hand, she was responsible for the ugliest present I ever saw.

It was truly hideous. A moose clumsily handcrafted from lucite, standing on a chunk of paving stone intended to represent a rocky summit somewhere on the Precambrian shield.

And Aunt Myrtle gave it to me as a wedding present.

Which of course meant I couldn't have the horror melted down into a bowling ball, or leave it out by the curb to await adoption by some passer-by with even lousier taste than Aunt Myrtle, no.

I had to keep the damned thing, on the off chance that Aunt Myrtle might drop in and wonder why it wasn't standing over the fireplace.

No more, hurrah. Aunt Myrtle has gone to her reward and the mutant moose is about to, just as soon as I can score a cardboard box big enough to hold it.

Unwanted gifts. Did you ever wonder how much loot we waste on gifts we give to people who hate them? Those fluorescent ties all Dads get at Christmas and on Father's Day? The bottles of perfume you wouldn't use on a skunk-sprayed dog? The plaid socks? The hardcover books even the author's mother wouldn't read? The fondue sets?

The lucite mooses?

Well, wonder no more. I don't know how much we Canucks throw away on stuff, but an economics professor at Yale University has calculated that of the $40 billion Yanks spend each year swap-

I had to keep the damned thing, on the off chance that Aunt Myrtle might drop in and wonder why it wasn't standing over the fireplace.

Black'n White

by Arthur Black

ping presents back and forth, somewhere between $4 billion and $10 billion is thrown away on stuff the recipient hates on sight — a "deadweight loss" is how Professor Waldfogel describes it.

And it's not just useless gifts. When it comes to ethnic protocol, some gifts are downright offensive.

It is a profoundly bad idea to gift wrap a Black Forest Ham for an Israeli, or to give a miniskirt to an orthodox Muslim.

Don't ever give cowboy boots to a Hindu — not if they're made out of cowhide. Cows are sacred beasts in India.

Some gift gaffes are less obvious. You can insult a Japanese businessman by offering him a souvenir letter opener.

Symbolically, you're advising him to commit hara kiri.

And don't show up on a Guatemalan doorstep with a fistful of white flowers. In Guatemala, white flowers are for funerals.

It's an altogether tricky business, giving gifts. It reminds me of the story of Phil Silvers, an American comedian who gained TV immortality as Sergeant Bilko.

Silvers was a very wealthy man, and reputed to be "the man who has everything." But he had a wealthier friend who was determined to buy Silvers a present that would wow him.

The friend invited Silvers to spend a weekend at his mansion in Beverly Hills. Silvers showed up Friday night at the wheel of a magnificent burgundy Rolls Royce Silver Cloud.

"My mechanics not busy this weekend," said the host, "Why don't you let him give your car a little tune-up?" Silvers shrugged assent. Unknown to the comedian, his car was whisked away to a garage where a team of experts worked around the clock to install a built-in mahogany bar, a hi-fi system, a colour television and a VCR.

On Sunday evening as Silvers was preparing to depart, his host had his renovated car brought around to the front.

"You might want to check out your jalopy," murmured the host, "just to see if it runs any better."

"Ah, who cares?" replied Silvers, "It's only a rental."

Construction on the new Westside Jug City store has begun. Brian and Darryl Moore, left, examine the progress as a construction crew prepares the footings for the new structure. While reluctant to offer a firm date, they hope to have the new store open in a month and a half. The Jug City store was destroyed in a spectacular fire earlier this year.

New executive for Home Support

A new executive was elected and a former volunteer honoured, as the Haliburton County Home Support Service held its annual meeting Wednesday.

The meeting was held in the common room of the Echo Hills Apartment complex in Haliburton.

In addition to approving the usual number of year-end reports, the organization paid tribute to one of its most enthusiastic volunteers. Marilyn Pennycook, support services coordinator, introduced the Volunteer of the Year, Ev Morgan.

Pennycook noted that all the organization's volunteers make a valuable contribution to the services provided. She pointed out, however that Ev Morgan's contribution over a two year period was equal in time to someone working full-time for a year. "Of course, the contribution is not just a matter of totalling up the hours, Pennycook stated, "but in the fact that the time is donated willingly and cheerfully."

Pennycook recalled that when Morgan knew she wanted to relocate to the Haliburton Highlands, she registered at the office as a volunteer. "That was several months before she actually moved to the area," Pennycook pointed out. "She is a keen volunteer."

Ev Morgan served on the association's board of directors, on various committees, helped in the office, in line dancing instruction, as a social convenor, as well as in the traditional volunteer activities such as driving, phone a friend, friendly visiting among others.

Ev recently moved to the Peterborough area to be closer to her family. She commented that she was honoured to receive the award and she misses the activity that was part of her life at Home Support Services.

A new board of directors and executive were elected at the meeting. Adele Barnes was elected to the position of president, a post she has held before. Earl Hayne will be the group's first vice president, with Jerry Rome returning as second vice president and treasurer. There was no candidate for the post of executive secretary.

Elected to the board of directors for the coming year were: Morris Hansen, Ruth Still, Russ Fair, Helen Henderson, Lourene Scott and Jean Wittman.

Before the meeting closed, a draw was held for a quilt. The $380 raised will be used to support the services offered through the organization. Brant Sisson of Haliburton was the winner.

Schrader earns EOSC volunteer award

Linda Schrader of the Minden Skating Club was recently named the recipient for the Eastern Ontario Section Club Volunteer Award and on May 14 travelled to Kingston for the EOS Annual General Meeting and Awards Luncheon. Linda was presented with her plaque by Michael Woogh, EOS Chairman, who recognized her achievements within the Minden Skating Club as an example for all volunteers throughout the Section to follow.

Many executive positions have been handled by Linda over the years in the local club: Carnival chairperson, fundraising, "Meet

To Skate" competition chairperson and president. At this time, she still serves as director, secretary of the Skater Development Committee, and registrar for the club's annual competition. She also serves on the EOS Regional Committee as liaison for the Haliburton and Bancroft clubs as well as Minden.

Linda always has a word of encouragement for the skaters and takes time for any explanations to parents. She passes on her experience and ideas, plus donates her time and energy liberally. The Minden Skating Club is proud and grateful to have Linda as a much needed volunteer.

Peewee Bs down Cambray 8-1

by Jerry Grozelle

The Regal Capital Group peewee B Royals started off their hardball season on the right foot, coming home from Cambray last Tuesday evening with an 8-1 victory.

The Royals got strong pitching from both of their hurlers who saw action in the game. Johnathan Swinson was on the mound for the first three innings. He kept the opposition off the scoreboard. Swinson also contributed to the win with a pair of runs.

Jarrett Aggett took over the pitching duties for the rest of the game, which was shortened to five innings because of time constraints. He kept Cambray to one run in spite of a few tense moments.

Adam Payne scored three runs while Aidan McKnight, Andrew Graham and Shawn Casey added one run apiece to the winning tally.

Minden took a 3-0 lead in the first inning, added one in the third and four in the fourth.

Cambray had the makings of a rally on a few occasions. The home team had the bases loaded in the second and fifth innings. But the Minden defense was up to the challenge.

Darren Gilbert made a great catch in right field; Payne made a good throw from third base to Casey at the plate to put a Cambray runner out at home; and McKnight turned a good infield play in the fifth to help nip a potential Cambray rally. Aggett struck out the third Cambray batter in the bottom of the inning to end the threat.

Minden's home opener was postponed because of rain. The Royals won't see action again until Sunday, May 29 when they are scheduled to play host to Cobocok at 2 p.m.. They will play the next night (May 30) in Cambray at 7:30 p.m.

Ontario Senior Games 150 Haliburton County competitors to take part

For the next few weeks, about 150 seniors (aged 55 and over) from Haliburton County will be competing in the Ontario Senior Games.

The events will get under way on May 24 and continue until June 24 at venues across Haliburton and Muskoka.

Gold medal winners from the Muskoka/Haliburton competitions will advance to the Actifest, which is held every second year. This year Actifest will be held in Sudbury at Laurentian University from August 22 to 24.

The list of competitions includes euchre, bridge, five-pin bowling, carpet bowling, crokinole, prediction walking, darts, swimming, triathlon (swimming, walking and ball throwing), cribbage, golf, shuffleboard, tennis, bid euchre and lawn bowling.

Some of the events will be held in Minden. Some of the shuffleboard competitions will be at the Minden courts on June 8 and 9, starting at 9 a.m. both days. The Minden Lawn Bowling Club will host two days of competition on June 11 and 12.

Euchre, walking, and triathlon events will be held in Haliburton. Carnarvon Lanes will be the site of five-pin bowling competitions and Stanhope will host some tennis contests. Some of the cribbage action will take place in Kinmount. Wilberforce will host carpet bowling, West Guilford will be the site of contract bridge competition and bid euchre will take place at Deer Lodge.

The closing ceremonies and awards presentations will be held at the Haliburton Legion on Monday, June 27.

HHSS junior girls place second

The girls' high school soccer season wrapped up last Wednesday with the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School juniors finishing second in the four-team league.

Since the I.E. Weldon team of Lindsay finished with six wins and no losses, Weldon advanced to the Kawartha championship.

Haliburton's record of three wins and three losses made the team's coach Martha Stenn happy.

"We had 18 girls on the team and half of them were brand new to the game this year," Stenn said. "They came a long way and played well as a team."

Haliburton finished the season with a 2-0 win over Lindsay Collegiate last Wednesday.

Amanda Stephenson notched the first goal in the first half and Melanie Bradley iced the victory with the only goal of the second half.

Dawn Mole and Brianne Hewitt shared the shutout between the Haliburton pipes. Mole guarded the net through the first half and Hewitt took over to preserve the shutout in the second half.

"It was an exciting season," Stenn said.

Wednesday's win over LCVI made it a sweep for Haliburton over the Lindsay squad. In their previous meeting, on May 11, Carolyn Ratz, Loreena Rogers and Jenn Turner scored one each on the way to a 3-1 win.

Two days before that, the Haliburton girls gave up a disappointing 1-0 loss to Bethany Hills. They missed a few good chances, allowing the opposition hang on for the win.

In the other game between Haliburton and Bethany Hills, HHSS played to a 1-0 win. Bradley was the sniper, with Mole and Hewitt recording another shutout.

The strength of the Weldon girls was evident as they won both of their games against Haliburton by 6-0 scores.

Ritchie Mills and Melissa Forgrave helped guide the Haliburton juniors to a second place finish in the league. Mills was the team's assistant coach and Forgrave was the trainer.

Cleaning up the community

On Saturday, May 14, about 40 people, mostly Brownies and Sparks, spent a good part of the morning cleaning up our town

"There is so much garbage around here. People are so sloppy," said Second Minden Brownie member Valerie Muise, below.

Her friend Kathryn Berube, right, and a second Minden Brownie, agreed, "We'll probably have to clean up again next year,"

Sponsored by Dollo's IGA, the adults and children picked up so much garbage they were able to fill over 20 bags. Congratulations to everybody who came out and cleaned up the town!

County opposes 503 downgrading

The following items were discussed at the May 18 meeting of Haliburton County Council:

Highway Status

Haliburton County Council is voicing its opposition to a proposal to turn Highway 507 into a county road.

Council has endorsed a resolution from Glamorgan Township, petitioning the Ministry of Transportation to maintain the existing highway status.

The downgrading of this highway would have a major impact on tourism and revenue generated by travellers who pass through the areas, Glamorgan council contends. Further, the downgrading raises concerns regarding the degree of maintenance and priority status, especially considering the majority of the highway is in Peterborough County.

Glamorgan's resolution has also been sent to the Minister of Transportation, MPP Chris Hodgson, Peterborough County Council and Dysart Township.

Mailing Waste

Glamorgan Reeve Bev MacDuff wants the province to cut down on its paper waste by streamlining its mailing lists.

MacDuff said she normally receives three copies of most correspondence from the various ministries. She receives one copy at her home address, another at the township office and a third at the county office.

Considering there are 489 municipalities in Ontario, the cost of this duplication is significant, she said.

Still Nervous

The county's lean roads budget appears to be on target so far, said County Engineer Dave Valentine.

When the budget was struck, Valentine expressed concern that a deficit may be unavoidable. On Wednesday, however, he told council that spending is on target.

"I'm still nervous about it," he said, "but the numbers are working out so far."

Children's Services

County Councillors should be taking an active interest in the development of the new Children's Services Board, cautioned Stanhope Deputy Reeve Elinor Harrison.

Harrison, who is council's representative on the children's services steering committee, said she senses that local politicians are unaware of what is happening in regard to this committee and children's services.

The new board will represent the amalgamation of four agencies — SIRCH, Kinark, the Children's Aid Society and the Social Action Committee.

Positions on this new board will be filled at a community meeting on June 27. Harrison said it is likely that four municipal representatives will be required to sit on this board and she put out a challenge to fellow councillors to attend the meeting.

Minden Reeve Bern Berry expressed concern about the financial costs associated with this new agency. He noted that the CAS is facing a serious financial shortfall and speculated that this is the province's way of downloading the burden.

"The province doesn't seem to be able to afford CAS," said Berry, "how can the county?"

The CAS has had to trim $460,000 from its budget and lay off more than 17 employees. It is also closing its two group homes in Peterborough.

Thieves are hitting summer targets

Minden OPP are investigating a number of thefts around the county. It seems now that the nicer weather is upon us, thieves have begun hitting their summer targets.

Sometime since April 20, Michael Jessop of Newmarket, had the boathouse of his cottage, located on Moore Lake, broken into. The culprit stole two outboard motors and gas tanks. The motors are described as a silver and blue 1992, 9.9 horsepower Nissan and a blue 1987, six horsepower Evinrude.

In the morning of May 13, Richard Samelko of Pickering, while travelling to his cottage, was having a problem with his trailer which had his 14 foot aluminium boat and 15 horse power Mercury outboard on it. Samelko had to leave the trailer on Highway 35 at Cedar Lake intending to return later to fix it and continue. When he returned later that day, someone had stolen the trailer, boat and motor.

Robert Hilditch of Bowmanville arrived at his cottage on May 13 to discover that someone had broken into his shed. The culprit stole a red 1990 Suzuki ATV, and a Homelite chainsaw.

If It's Broken, Why Not Fix It?

The newly-planted tulip bed at the Minden Post Office lost much of its appeal when vandals removed the heads from about 50 flowers.

Young vandals trash tulip bed

OPP are questioning youths after about 50 tulip heads were deliberately chopped off leaving nothing but a garden full of stems behind the post office in Minden.

On Wednesday morning a witness phoned police and claimed to have seen the youths in the immediate area of the post office the night before, but did not see them commit the crime. The youths were identified and later questioned by the police, but the youths denied having any part in the crime.

Constable Rich Gooch saw the damage and couldn't understand why anyone would commit such a crime.

"Merchants in the downtown section are trying hard to improve the appearance of the area. It's a shame vandalism has to happen. Local youths are just going around and causing minor damage," said Gooch.

According to Gooch, the damage was caused by local youths, not tourists as some might think, who most likely were looking for something interesting to do with their time.

Gooch and other OPP members are now putting together a community policing program for young teenagers. The program will give the youths something to do with their time.

Gooch hopes this program will give kids a chance to do something instead of hanging around the streets and getting into trouble.

Gooch stresses that this kind of behaviour will not be tolerated in Minden, "If (the criminals) are caught, they will be charged."

Mothers' Day is always special at Hyland Crest

Saturday, May 7, the day before Mothers' Day, many friends and relatives were in and out all day.

Sunday was Mothers' Day. It was a beautiful day. At noon we had lunch in the dining room. The residents had made placemats and at each plate a favour was placed. Dried flowers were wrapped in paper doilies and tied with ribbon bows. Many mothers were out with their families and some who were unable to go out had visitors in for dinner. Terry and Norma came and we went for a drive and had dinner downtown. I got home just in time to attend chapel service. Chapel was conducted by Rev. John Burgess with June Mason playing the organ. Thank you John and June. We enjoyed both.

Monday morning we held an executive meeting of Residents' Council to consider sending another person to a conference that will explain advocacy duties.

In the afternoon we had a meeting with three ladies from the C.N.I.B. who explained what help was available for people with eye trouble. These ladies showed some of the aids available. The ladies' names were Debbie Wolfe, Marge Wolfe, and Helen Scott (who has been totally blind for ten years). Helen lives in Bobcaygeon, is married with two children, and does her own housework. She is an example of what determination can do.

In the evening the Salvation Army came from Fenelon Falls to hold a short service of songs. We enjoyed it greatly and thank them heartily for the service and the lovely carnations.

Tuesday, Pastor Fast conducted the chapel service and we are grateful for this service.

May Cox is new WI District Director

The May 18 meeting of Minden Women's Institute was held at the Library/Cultural Centre and chaired by past president Jeanne Sears. As there was only a small number present, business was conducted quickly. May Cox was appointed District Director, Jean Cox became first vice president and Irene Moore convenor of Family and Consumer Affairs. Irene reported sending 21 cards on various occasions since the April meeting and collections for the card fund and pennies for friendship were taken.

Programmes are to be planned at the home of Jean Cox on May 31 for executive and convenors. Delegates to the District Annual on May 25 are Mary Cox, Beulah Hewitt and Jean Lacey with alternate Annie Kernohan. Two cars will be going. The plant sale was postponed until the next meeting. No convenor or speaker was present so we joined in a round table discussion with many beefs being aired and many suggestions for improvements in our branch.

The next meeting will be a pot luck luncheon at 12 noon in the United Church hall. Please bring your own dishes. Anyone wishing to know more about the Minden Women's Institute is welcome to join us.

Provincial Parks hotline opens

To help travellers and campers plan their Ontario breather this summer, the province will operate its annual toll-free campground vacancy information service, providing daily campsite availability reports at 49 Provincial Parks.

Camping is one of Ontario's most popular summer activities with many parks now having outstanding interpretive programs. Ontario's provincial parks are extremely popular and this reporting program helps campers to plan their vacations.

Starting May 20 and running until Labour Day weekend, campers can call 1-800-ONTARIO and get the latest vacancy information. In Toronto, campers can call 314-0944. The report is also available in French by calling 1-800-268-3736, Monday to Saturday between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m., and Sundays and holidays between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Toronto callers seeking French reports can call 314-0956.

Reservations for specific parks must be made by calling the park directly.

The reports are updated every Friday between May 20 and June 24 and daily from June 25 to September 2. The report highlights all Provincial Parks south, east and west of a line from Georgian Bay to Sudbury to the Ottawa River.

kilometres from Carnarvon off Highway 118 between Baker and Ox lakes. It is owned by Royel Paving of Lindsay. About 20 acres of the property has already had most of the aggregate removed and Royel wants to excavate more gravel from the remaining 7.5 acres of a deposit.

Stanhope Council has no objection to the expansion but neighbouring land owners fear environmental damage. The land owners' opposition forced an OMB hearing.

The Totally Awesome Corporation, a watchdog group concerned with environmental issues, has provided resources to help fight the expansion. Kari Siirala is a spokesman for Totally Awesome. He said that it has "become very evident, because of Dr. (Orie) Loucks' testimony, that there's more potential impact than anyone had realized."

Loucks, a professor at the University of Ohio, is a respected expert in this field with an impressive list of credentials. He was born and raised in this area and still has a cottage in Haliburton County.

Loucks did an on-site examination of the area and in his testimony, told hearing chairman R.W. Rodman that, in his professional opinion, the area in question would qualify as a provincially significant wetland even though it hasn't been evaluated and designated as such by the provincial government.

Loucks said that removal of more material from the site would change the surface water flow and introduce the enrichment of phosphorus, a nutrient that encourages the growth of less desirable plants that would choke out the native species. He also warned that the quality of water in Ox Lake may also be at risk.

Removal of gravel from the 20 acre pit that already exists has shown signs of a negative impact on the environment, Loucks pointed out. He said the full impact may not be known for 15 to 20 years and added that further excavation would accelerate the process.

Another witness for the neighbouring land owners was Roy McArthur, a hydrogeologist from Quebec. He addressed concerns about the possible deterioration of quality and quantity of water in neighbouring wells. McArthur explained that the sub-surface flow of water that feeds wells depends on the cracks in the bedrock as well as the surface water that filters down into those rock fractures. He said the direction of flow of surface water is not an indication of the water flow down at the level where well water is tapped. He suggested that extraction of gravel in one location could have an impact on wells in any direction from the extraction site.

"If people lose their supply of water they can't just drill deeper to find water," McArthur said. "They're out of luck."

Ellis said that once the gravel is extracted, the entire site, including the existing 20 acre pit, would be restored, with topsoil and reseeded to prevent excessive runoff and other potential damage to the environment.

"The people there just don't want anything to happen in their area. They tried to stop the sawmill — the wood cutting operation — and that made employment for people in Haliburton County," Ellis added. "They just want to sit back and watch the trees grow and you can't live on that."

For better or worse, Gee misses point

Last week I contrasted the conclusions of journalist Robert D. Kaplan (Atlantic Monthly, February) with those of Marcus Gee (Globe and Mail, April 9).

Writing before the horrors of Rwanda, Kaplan saw in Africa and southeast Asia, the beginnings of what he believes will become a global pattern of disintegration of social, political and economic infrastructures under the impact of ecological degradation, population pressure and disease.

Gee, on the other hand, focuses on the statistic of the decline in child mortality and rise in longevity, food production and adult literacy in the developing countries to reach a very different conclusion: Things have never been better!

Economic indicators such as rise in gross world product and total exports, indicate "remarkable sustained and dramatic progress...life for the majority of the world's citizens is getting steadily better in almost every category."

Kaplan's frightening picture is built on a recognition that the planet is finite and that degradation of ecosystems by demands of population has vast social, political, and economic ramifications.

Gee's conclusions rest heavily on economic indicators: "the world economy has grown by 3.9 percent per year over the past three decades...gross output per capita has more than doubled."

World trade has done even better, growing at an "annual increase of six percent from 1960 to 1990" as tariffs have declined from 40 percent of a product's price in 1947 to five percent to day. Yet all this time, the gulf between rich and poor countries has increased.

Gee skips lightly over such facts as Third World debt and the daily

Reflections

by David Suzuki

toll of 22,000 child deaths of easily preventable diseases, and even admits "soil erosion, air pollution, deforestation, the contamination of water supplies are real."

Yet he concludes there is little evidence they are serious enough to halt or even reverse human progress. He even suggests the preposterous notion that global warming and ozone depletion "may cancel each other out."

Gee's outlook rests on "a small but growing body of scientific opinion that holds that the Earth has the capacity to sustain far more people than it does today. The experience of the past 25 years, during which living standards soared even as world population more than doubled, is cited as proof."

But the relationship between changes in living standard and population growth is a correlation, not proof of a casual connection.

Gee quotes "American scholar" Mark Perlman: "The growth in numbers over the millennia from a few thousands or millions of humans living at low subsistence, to billions living well above subsistence, is a most positive assurance that the problem of sustenance has eased rather than grown more difficult over the years."

Gee cites the World Bank (an organization not known for its sensitivity to the sustainability of ecosystems or local cultures) statement: "The food crisis of the early '70s will be the last in history."

Julian Simon, who was an economic adviser to Ronald Reagan, is extensively cited by Gee. Simon's position was revealed when I once asked him about the population crisis.

He retorted: "What crisis?" and went on to say there have never been as many people so well off, and there will never be a limit to population because more people means more Einsteins to keep making life better.

But neither Simon nor Perlman is a scientist. David Pimentel is an eminent ecologist at Cornell University who says the human population of 12 billion to 15 billion expected by 2100 will be a disaster.

As population grows, land, forests, water, energy, and biodiversity fall dramatically. Pimentel believes we should be aiming to reduce global numbers to two billion by 2100; Canada and the US should shrink by a third.

Of course, such a dramatic drop in numbers will require a Herculean effort and have enormous political, economic and social consequences.

But "continued rapid population growth will result in even more severe social, economic, and political conflicts, plus catastrophic public health and environmental problems."

If we inherit a bank account with $1,000 that earns five percent interest annually, we could withdraw $50 or less each year forever. However, suppose we start to increase our withdrawals, say up to $60, then $70 and more each year. For many years, the account would yield cash. But it would be foolish to conclude that we could keep drawing more from the account indefinitely. Yet that is what the Gees, Simons and Perlman believe.

As the Atlantic groundfishery shows, we are using up the ecological capital of the planet (biodiversity, air, water, soil) rather than living off the interest.

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Virginia Guest Linde, Stanley Address and Randolph Harrison who passed away recently.

I've always wondered why so many bus trips are planned for the third Wednesday of each month - I have a meeting on that day and have for the last 45 years - are they trying to tell me something?

Planning a yard sale?

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to thank our family and friends in Haliburton area, Timmins, Kitchener, Arizona and Vermont for the many lovely cards, flowers, phone calls and gifts we received during the recent loss of a mother. We would especially like to thank Keith and Mabel Brannigan, Kim and Andrea Hewitt and family, Christopher, Robin and Marcus. Frances Marshall and family, Sarah and Jessica and Vi Mahoney and the Mahoney family for the beautiful lunch following the funeral. Words will never be enough to thank the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home. Gord had a long drive to Timmins under very trying circumstances and conducted a funeral that only a true professional could have done. We, in this county, should be particularly proud that we have the Monk family to care for not only our every need, but are there to give us strength and help through the terrible grieving period. From the bottom of our hearts, thank you Gord for all the care and compassion and also the eulogy presented by Dennis and Deanne Mahoney. To everyone for the kindness you have shown to Nelson and Betty, thank you.

...when you're up to your ears in trouble, try using the part that isn't submerged.

AT REST

LINDE,
Virginia Guest

Quietly, at her home in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y., on Monday, May 10, 1994. Devoted wife of Walter Linde. Beloved daughter of William C. and Ruth A. Guest. Adored mother of Lucinda, Carl, Alexandra, Annette Weatherhead and Peter. Loving grandmother of Madeleine G. Weatherhead. Her energetic support of the Zion Church and the Hudson River Museum and dedicated service to the Dobbs Ferry schools and library will be long appreciated. She brought joy to every life she touched. When she died the sun bowed behind the moon in honour of her passing. Walter retired July 1, 1993 from his job in N.Y. City where his employer transferred him 28 years ago and the couple had planned to spend their retired years at their home on Boshkung Lake. Walter will continue to reside at Boshkung Lake, visited by his five children and many friends. Funeral services were held at the Zion Episcopal Church in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y., on Thursday, May 12, 1994 and at St. Peter's Anglican Church, Maple Lake, Ontario on Saturday, May 14, 1994 at 3 p.m. Interment St. Peter's Cemetery, Maple Lake. Arrangements were entrusted to the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home in Minden.

HARRISON,

Randolph Joseph (Randy) passed away as a result of an accident, at Soldiers Memorial Hospital, Orillia on Saturday, May 14, 1994. He was in his 63rd year. A retired employee of General Motors, Oshawa, Randy of Washago, was the loving father of Judy Gingras and husband Danny of Oshawa and Jeff Harrison and wife Cindy of Whitby. Grandfather of Lindsay and Michael Gingras, Jay and Tyler Harrison. Beloved brother of Doreen and husband John Gelineau of Washago. Predeceased by brother Phillip Harrison. Loving son of the late Steve and Elsie Harrison. The family received friends at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Minden, Ontario on Monday. IN MEMORIAM

HARPER, William - passed away May 27, 1991. He is gone but not forgotten. And, as dawns another year, In our lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come o'er us Many think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow That lies in the heart concealed. Remembered by his wife, Betty Harper.

IN MEMORIAM

ROWDEN: Junior - a birthday tribute for Monday, May 23 to our dear son and brother who left us for a better world. Junior, you still live on in the hearts and minds of the loving family you left behind. Sadly missed by your loving Mom and sisters and brothers.

Also for a dear brother, PETROL MISCIO whose birthday was May 24th. Always loved and remembered Sister Nell.

YEARWOOD: In loving memory of a dear wife, Luella, who passed away May 25, 1991. God saw you getting tired When a cure was not to be. So He closed His arms around you, And whispered "Come to Me". You didn't deserve what you went through So He gave you rest, God's garden must be beautiful, He only takes the best. And when we saw you sleeping, So peaceful and free from pain, We could not wish you back To suffer that again. Dearly missed by husband Cecil and family.

PRIEST: In loving memory of a dear uncle Gordon who passed away May 29, 1991. Gone are the days we used to share But in our minds, you are always there. Sadly missed by Shirley, Dave and Andrea.

....a strong code of ethics is as reliable as a compass.
